DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 21 is objected to because of the following informalities: there are typographical errors in the subscripts of the formula (line 2). More specifically, the formula as written is  $S_n M_{z-z} M'_z O_{y-y} A_y$  and is assumed to read  $S_n M_{2-z} M'_z O_{7-y} A_y$  as supported by the specification. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 30 provides for the use of pigment, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 19, 22, and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sakatani et al (JP 2003221230 A). Sakatani teaches a ceramic dispersion comprising oxysulfides and one or more metal elements including Nb or Ta, and Sn (abstract). While Sakatani does not give a specific combination of these three elements, they are clearly contemplated as a combination by the teaching of the reference, therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to form a ceramic dispersion as an oxysulfide of tin and niobium or tantalum. It is noted that applicant's "inorganic pigment" is intended use of the claimed compound and does not further limit the scope of the claim. Furthermore, regarding the term "pigment" it is well settled that when a claimed composition appears to be substantially the same as a composition disclosed in the prior art, the burden is properly upon the applicant to prove by way of tangible evidence that the prior art composition does not necessarily possess characteristics attributed to the CLAIMED composition. In re Spada, 911 F.2d 705, 15 USPQ2d 1655 (Fed. Circ. 1990); In re Fitzgerald, 619 F.2d

67, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980); In re Swinehart, 439 F.2d 2109, 169 USPQ 226 (CCPA 1971). Therefore, the material taught by Sakatani is considered to meet any characteristic associated with the word "pigment".

Regarding claim 22, Sakatani also teaches that the ceramic dispersion comprises a ceramic in a dispersion medium. The dispersion medium is considered a substrate matrix.

Regarding claim 25, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to optimize the amount of ceramic in the dispersion of Sakatani

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 20, 21, 23, 24, 26-29, and 31-36 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record does not teach or render obvious a compound of the claimed formula as recited in claim 20. Additionally, the prior art of record does not teach or render obvious a method of making the material as recited in claim 31. Further, the prior art of record does not teach or render obvious a material as recited in claim 22 wherein the substrate matrix comprises a glass component or a plastic component.
